Commerce Commission Authorizes Control of Grand Trunk Western

Washington, Nov. 8.—Authorization for the Canadian National Railways to acquire control of the Grand Trunk Western Railway and for the latter road to issue securities in connection with the unification of several lines was given today by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Canadian National will obtain control of the Grand Trunk through an exchange of stock.

The Grand Trunk was authorized to issue $13,815,997.56 of common stock without nominal or par value, with an assigned value of $30, also $22,348,453.82 of six per cent cumulative preferred stock, with an assigned value of $100, as well as $31,947,000 of first and general mortgage bonds, and $10,000,000 of gold debentures.

Action was deferred by the commission on the application of the Grand Trunk to issue $651,546.18 of six per cent cumulative preferred stock and $13,052,016 of first and general mortgage bonds.

Edmonton, Nov. 8.—Premier King and his party to-day were traveling by train to Prince Rupert after a visit in Edmonton, which included an address by the Prime Minister to a great and attentive audience, the meeting being described as the most successful event of the Cabinet leader's Western tour thus far. His next public address will be given in Prince Rupert Saturday night.

Reference to proposals for a railway outlet for the Peace River district to the British Columbia coast was a feature of Mr. King's speech last night.

An outlet to the Pacific Ocean must come, and the sooner the better for all concerned, he said. He had urged the two great railways to hurry their surveys so the best route could be chosen.

In another part of his speech Premier King emphatically condemned underground methods, planned to set race against race and creed against creed.

Reports that King's whisperings were being used for political purposes had come to his ears, Mr. King said. These reports pertained to the province of Alberta as well as the province of Saskatchewan. Any man or woman who, by whisperings, caused racial or religious enmity was no true Canadian.

Magistrate R. A. Sergeant remanded the accused until Saturday for sentence and set bail at $15,000.

The original charge laid against Bowell mentioned only a small sum, but the charge was amended this week.

Padding of Contracts To Bring Action

Ottawa Sends Report on Building Inquiry to Ontario Attorney-General

Ottawa, Nov. 8.—The interim report of Gordon Waldron, K.C., the commissioner appointed under the Combines Investigation Act to inquire into the activities of the Amalgamated Building Council of Ontario and other associated organizations was dispatched today by Hon. Peter Neenan, Federal Minister of Labor, to the Attorney-General of Ontario. While the contents of the report were not made public, it is understood the document deals with Combinations' Waldron's visit to London, England, when the actions of certain contractors, members of the former Canadian Plumbing and Heating Guild, were under examination.

SUMS DIVIDED

Evidence at the inquiry disclosed there had existed among certain of these contractors a small organization whose functions were considered by the commissioner to be detrimental to the public interest. It transpired that the amount which would get together prior to the preparation of the report.

GIVES VIEWS ON LEISURE IN DIALOGUE

Unique Presentation By Dr.
H. T. J. Coleman Interests
Large Audience

Leisure Said to Be Co-traveler
With Work Under Favorable Circumstances

Expressing his views on "The Philosophy of Leisure" in the unique form of a dialogue between the character Socrates and three of his disciples, Dr. H. T. J. Coleman of the University of British Columbia gave an instructive and highly entertaining address before the University Extension Association at Victoria College last night.

Before reading his paper, which he had written for a club gathering in California some time ago, Dr. Coleman dealt with the three different attitudes to leisure common at the present.

The primitive conception of leisure was perhaps the most popular, he stated. This he considered a sheer state of mental and physical idleness—a release from toil. Much could be said in favor of this attitude, the speaker continued, illustrating his point with the statement that physical and mental relaxation at the proper time was most beneficial to the health of the individual.

ARISTOCRATIC CONCEPTION

Something opposed to this ideal was the aristocratic conception of leisure, the conception taken by Sir Rabindranath Tagore in his famous address on the "Conquest of the Summer." While there were many excellent points in this ideal, the speaker continued, that it narrowed the field of those enjoying leisure to a select few. In Tagore's words "A true gentleman is the product of bounteous centuries of cultivated leisure" he found the high note and at the same time the weak link in this ideal.

It was true, Dr. Coleman stated, that the presence of a few men, who had enjoyed this privilege, in a nation was beneficial. But that outside the question, virtually ignored the masses of people.

DEMOCRATIC LEISURE

In contrast to this was the third ideal, that of a democratic leisure. This was not necessarily a material outlook, the speaker stated, but rather a force for the spiritual good of mankind. Whereas Tagore, the believer in aristocratic leisure, had looked into the past for the "Golden Age," those seeking a democratic leisure were looking into the future. This viewpoint expressed great optimism.

With Tagore he agreed that the use of leisure in search for pleasure was one of the weaknesses of the Western world. But against that philosopher's outlook he suggested the idea that the West, with all its hurry, was, figuratively speaking, building a temple for all mankind where humanity might enjoy a greater leisure and derive its benefits.

RED'S HOSPITAL

Following his remarks Dr. Coleman read a dialogue in the Platonic vein, discussing the different conceptions of leisure held by men of the present day.

Through the words of his Socrates he implanted several truths on the minds of his hearers.

By means of the character Critobulus he showed that there were many people who seek arduous exertion in the name of leisure. With this personage the regular round of vacation activities appeared synonymous with leisure. He caught the essence of this spirit in the line:

"Leisure is work that one does not have to do."

Next Dr. Coleman introduced Cleinias, who expressed his opinion in the following words:

"I should say that true leisure is in idleness."

LEISURE IS PLEASANT

While still another character, Hippocrates, also spoke his mind:

"Leisure consists in play as of boys who spend long hours in the fields and follow whithersoever their fancy leads them."

At some length the speaker made Socrates consider the various phases of his disciples' viewpoints. During the discourse he digresses to give the game of golf an Thracian origin, and instills the bit Athenian characters a love of speedy automobiles under the name of chariot.

He takes Socrates to the sculptor's block and reveals the contents of his character's mind as he works. Beauty and accomplishment in work are dealt with, along with wisdom, which reveals to Socrates that leisure is not a state of idleness.

Bacchae's dream is recalled. In it are shown the great heroes of Greece sickening in the shades, while the philosopher Thales of Miletus seemed happy. From the latter he had learned that the enjoyment of leisure was above time.

EXPRESSES OWN VIEWS

In conclusion Dr. Coleman expressed his own views on leisure through the mouth of the character Socrates, saying that it was neither absolutely opposite nor absolutely equal to idleness, as it were a co-traveler with endeavor under favorable circumstances.

Throughout the dialogue Dr. Coleman maintained his Platonic note and lightened his expression of ideas with a pleasing levity of diction.

At the conclusion of the meeting members of the association questioned the speaker and discussed the application of the subject he had spoken on.

A. B. Sanders, president of the association, moved a vote of thanks to Dr. Coleman and was seconded by Mrs. Young.

effect on life as a whole is surely ruinous.

But the most obvious sentiment expressed was callousness to the wife. Many a home claims all of a woman's strength. Without the unselfish domesticity, so lightly sneered at, it would be home no more. Yet, we are told, the man's part there is to be diverted and diverted.

And what would be said if the wife breaks down? I know of one, aged about twenty, in Victoria. Though helpless and impoverished, she and the child have been despised by her husband. Is there not incentive for such as he, in this article by Dorothy Dix?

Five Killed By Explosion

Worcester, Mass., Nov. 8.—Five workmen were blown to pieces in a premature explosion of eighty pounds of dynamite in a shaft of the Metropolitan water development at Coldbrook early to day.

The cause of the explosion could not be immediately determined. Fellow workmen told investigators a dynamite charge had been set off further in the tunnel at an early hour and that the five men were on their way toward the entrance, carrying eighty pounds of dynamite in one of the small cars used for that purpose. In some manner the dynamite was exploded. The men were blown to pieces and several hours later the parts of the bodies had not been recovered.

PADDING OF CONTRACTS TO BRING ACTION

ation of tenders for contracts. They would agree each tenderer should add a certain additional sum of money to his contract price and the successful tenderer would then distribute this additional sum among his unsuccessful competitors.

In six instances, according to the evidence, this practice was carried out, the additional sums aggregating approximately $18,000. Three of these contracts were for public work—the Western Fair, the Technical School and the City Hall. The others were for private work.

The Combines Investigation Act provides that if in the opinion of the Minister there has been a violation of the act he may submit the report of the investigating commissioners to the Attorney-General of the province concerned for his action.

The dispatch of Commissioner Waldron's interim report to the Attorney-General of Ontario indicates that in Mr. Hesman's opinion a situation has developed that requires legal action. The next move in these proceedings rests with the province.

FIRE DESTROYS MINE STABLES

Sydney, N.S., Nov. 8.—With all the workmen out and rescue crews pouring water upon the burning underground stables, the British Empire Steel Company's headquarters here at noon were confident the fire in the Princess pit at Sydney Mines would be under control and would not seriously interfere with the future operation of the property.

EXHIBIT GAVE RESULTS

British Columbia put on a big exhibit at the Toronto exhibition several years ago, and as the direct result of the fine exhibit B.C. lumber was specified for the construction of the great Coliseum Building at the exhibition, costing $1,250,000; the Cattle Building, built at a cost of $800,000; and the English Buildings, which cost $700,000 to erect.

"The architects are now specifying B.C. lumber for all exhibition buildings in Toronto, which is a tribute to the products of this province," said Dr. Waters.

Premier King's Visit

"We regret that Premier King is not speaking in Victoria on this visit, but we can show him a welcome hand at the reception at the Parliament Buildings next Wednesday night," Mr. Kinman said.

Macfarlane, K.C., president of the Laurier Club, who has just returned from Vancouver, where he has been in conference with those who have charge of the Premier's visit there, told of the great public reception that is being planned for the Premier by the various public and community organizations there. Mr. Macfarlane also explained that the Premier is speaking only twice in each province, using central points from which his speech can be broadcast by radio. The B.C. speeches will be delivered at Vancouver and Prince Rupert. Victoria will hear the Vancouver speech on next Friday night over Radio Station CNR.

OUTSIDE REPRESENTATIVES

Representing the Esquimalt Liberal Association, G. E. Bonner, its president, spoke of organization work and urged a central organization for the Liberals of Vancouver Island.

Francis Simpson, vice-president of the Saanich Liberal Association, congratulated the Premier on his visit, but urged him not to forget that the political pendulum will swing again here back to favor the Liberals, and that they should always keep that in mind.

"In Premier King we have the ex-censor man of Canada to-day," Mr. Simpson went on. "Anyone who reads the excellent speeches he has been delivering will recognize the fine calibre of our revered leader."

WINNIPEG IS TO GREET McALPINE AND PARTY

At Burnside after the Blandish patrol had carried them from Cambridge Bay, it was believed here that the entire party of explorers had been joined at Burnside.

BY PLAIN AND TRAIN

The next jump on the 2,000-mile homeward route to Winnipeg—that to Baker Lake—will bring the expeditors 450 miles closer to civilization. Then they will fly 600 miles from Baker to within few hundred miles of Churchill, northern Manitoba seaport, from where they are expected to entrain on the Hudson Bay Railway for The Pas and Winnipeg.

RECEPTION AT WINNIPEG

City and provincial authorities here are making preparations for receiving the nearly ill-fated exploration party when they arrive here, probably late this month.

Mayor Dan McLean announced last night that the city council had already appointed a special committee to arrange a suitable reception, and Hon. A. Hoey, Minister of Education and Acting Premier in the absence of Premier Bracken in England, stated the Government was prepared to assist in any way.

Further delay when the party reaches Baker Lake is anticipated as it is not yet known where a suitable landing place for planes at Churchill is located. A group of men has been dispatched to Rose Bell Lake, a small body of water eight miles from the northern seaport, to test the strength of ice there, but the report has not been received here.

The Toronto exhibition has seen five instances of steady growth until it has reached world's exhibition proportions, said Dr. Waters.

Last year the attendance totaled 1,974,000. Next year it will be greater than ever and an influx of 1,000,000 people from the United States is anticipated.

Fifty-six manufacturing firms of Great Britain were represented at the exhibition last August under the wing of the Federation of British Industries.

The Dominion Government Building will be available for the exhibits of the various provinces. The Maritimes, Quebec and Prairie provinces have pledge co-operation, and the exhibition directors are anxious to have the resources of British Columbia on display.

Representing the Esquimalt Liberal Association, G. E. Bonner, its president, spoke of organization work and urged a central organization for the Liberals of Vancouver Island.

Francis Simpson, vice-president of the Saanich Liberal Association, congratulated the Premier on his visit, but urged him not to forget that the political pendulum will swing again here back to favor the Liberals, and that they should always keep that in mind.

"In Premier King we have the ex-censor man of Canada to-day," Mr. Simpson went on. "Anyone who reads the excellent speeches he has been delivering will recognize the fine calibre of our revered leader."

WINNIPEG IS TO GREET McALPINE AND PARTY

At Burnside after the Blandish patrol had carried them from Cambridge Bay, it was believed here that the entire party of explorers had been joined at Burnside.

BY PLAIN AND TRAIN

The next jump on the 2,000-mile homeward route to Winnipeg—that to Baker Lake—will bring the expeditors 450 miles closer to civilization. Then they will fly 600 miles from Baker to within few hundred miles of Churchill, northern Manitoba seaport, from where they are expected to entrain on the Hudson Bay Railway for The Pas and Winnipeg.

RECEPTION AT WINNIPEG

City and provincial authorities here are making preparations for receiving the nearly ill-fated exploration party when they arrive here, probably late this month.

Further delay when the party reaches Baker Lake is anticipated as it is not yet known where a suitable landing place for planes at Churchill is located. A group of men has been dispatched to Rose Bell Lake, a small body of water eight miles from the northern seaport, to test the strength of ice there, but the report has not been received here.

NOTICE OF APPEAL

Thomas A. McGrath, Thaw's counsel, announced after Justice Levy's ruling that he still intended to appeal.

"I am frank in telling you," Justice Levy said in reducing the award, "that if it were not for the clear manifestation of the jury that this man must be punished as a defendant I would have reduced the verdict much more. I think, however, that the elements of the defendant must be considered."

Her counsel said he felt confident she would take the smaller sum.

FIRST JURY DISAGREED

The jurors disagreed at the first trial, but returned a verdict after fifty minutes of deliberation in the second hearing of the case.

ANOTHER HIGH TARIFF REBUFF

IF MR. MACKENZIE KING HAD CONSPIRED with the low tariff senators at Washington to furnish him with justification for his refusal to be stampeded into a tariff war, he could not have found a better case than the one which is being handed to him on a platter. Once again, Senator Reed, one of the highest protectionists from the highest protectionist state in the Union—Pennsylvania—has told his colleagues that the Hawley-Smoot bill is "as good as dead already."

This latest outburst from Senator Reed came yesterday when the regular Republican group in the Senate was compelled to bow to an overwhelming majority of Democrats and insurgent western Republicans, who by a vote of forty-eight to thirty succeeded in reducing the duty on pig iron from $1.12½ to seventy-five cents a ton. The principal significance of this vote, however, lies in the fact that not only was the proposal of the regular government supporters—the Republican finance committee—to increase the duty to $1.50 per ton defeated, but that the existing tax, increased to $1.12½ by presidential proclamation, now has been cut to seventy-five cents, just half of the suggested figure in the Hawley-Smoot bill.

The nature of the discussion which took place in respect of the pig iron duty, furnishes a still more striking indication of the difficulties Congress is encountering in its tariff-making business. Senator Reed himself sponsored this proposal for an increase for the benefit of the merchant furnace operators on the Atlantic seaboard, but he did not disguise his impatience with the manner in which it was treated by the vote. That decision proved to him the futility of attempting further arguments in support of industrial tariff increases, "since the House would never agree to the wholesale change being wrought by the coalition." Senator Norris of Nebraska said he was tired of being "lectured" by the senator from Pennsylvania, who had come "perilously near violating the rules of the Senate," or at least to having violated "ordinary sportsmanship." This Republican from Nebraska, moreover, while disclaiming any free trade leanings, considered that advocates of a higher tariff were doing more harm than good by demanding an embargo tariff wall.

This is the situation in the United States Senate which Mr. Mackenzie King anticipated would develop out of the discussions of the Hawley-Smoot bill. And his Government would have cut a sorry figure by this time if it had listened to the opportunities of our own high tariff element—which would have plunged Canada into a tariff war without knowing, or apparently caring, what this country had to combat.

ADVERTISING-VICTORIA

VICTORIA HAS BOASTED OF ITS golf attractions for many years—and it has been able to live up to its reputation. But this city is especially fortunate these days by reason of the fact that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, which has arranged to hold its second mid-winter golf tournament at Colwood next February, has launched an extensive advertising campaign to draw attention to the facilities and climatic advantages which this neighborhood presents to the golfer when the majority of golf courses on this continent are blanketed with snow.

We who live in Victoria all the year round are apt to regard the natural advantages we enjoy as a matter of course. Our annual winter visitors also take this equable climate as a matter of course. They know they are as sure of a game of golf on Christmas Day or New Year's Day as they are in the middle of the summer. It is because we are in a position to offer these better conditions to all and sundry on this continent that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company decided last year to make its mid-winter golf event in Victoria a permanent institution. Our citizens should know that no more intensive advertising campaign ever has been conducted than that which the company now has undertaken to attract golfers, from the "dub" to the "plus" man, for the event next February.

THE PACIFIC GREAT EASTERN

THE PUBLIC OF BRITISH COLUMBIA has been told by Premier Tolmie that the Pacific Great Eastern Railway has shown a profit in revenue over operating expenses for three consecutive months.

This will be good news to the taxpayers of this province. We seem to remember when the party over which Dr. Tolmie now presides was in opposition it could not say an encouraging word for our provincial railway system. Nor could it offer any sort of suggestion for the solution of the problem which it presented to the Government of the day. All the members of the then opposition could say was that that Government had made a mess of things. No matter what impartial observers of the costly undertaking might say, Conservative members had nothing constructive to offer.

It is only fair to say that during most of the time of this criticism of the administration of the affairs of the Pacific Great Eastern by the late Government Dr. Tolmie was not the leader of the party which now holds the reins of office; but his leadership of the Conservative Party obliges him to accept for that party the responsibility for the criticism which in the last few years has been levelled at a Government which was doing its best to convert a liability into an asset.

Dr. Tolmie, understanding the agricultural potentialities of the area which now is being served by the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, recognizes the value of adequate transportation service to what is practically a vast virgin country. The point which should be remembered, however, is that the Government which met defeat at the polls in the summer of 1928 was not the Government that advocated this expensive railway-building programme. The Government responsible was that of the late Sir Richard McBride which, in 1912, asked the people of British Columbia to authorize a guarantee of bonds of a private company. That company was unable to continue the project; and the Government was obliged to take it over.

When the Government of Mr. Brewster was confronted with this railway problem in 1918, he had to decide whether to take over the property from the contractors, or abandon all hope of turning the heavy liability into a producing asset. Dr. Tolmie's statement that the system has shown a profit in revenue over operating expenses for three consecutive months would appear to be fairly convincing evidence that when the late Government salvaged it from its more or less hopeless condition, it at least was acting in the best interests of the taxpayers of the province.

It is interesting, incidentally, to note Dr. Tolmie's remarks for the reason that when he and his supporters were bidding for votes, they held out rosy prospects of an early solution of what had come to be known as the Pacific Great Eastern problem. The present Government has been in office for more than fourteen months; but to all intents and purposes we are no nearer that solution than we were in the summer of 1928.

Mr. Kirk, however, one of the Vancouver members, had an audience in that city the other day that at the next session of the Legislature an announcement of the settlement of the problem would be forthcoming. We hope this promise from one of Dr. Tolmie's supporters in the House will not be as barren of results as the promise made by three Victoria-city members that the income tax would be reduced by fifty per cent and that the succession duties would be abolished altogether.

POLITICS AND THE RADIO

IN THE CLOSING DAYS OF THE recent general election campaign in Ontario the Liberal leader and his two principal Toronto newspaper supporters were certain the Ferguson forces were "on the run" because of the small attendance at the Conservative Party's meetings. To support this contention The Globe published a large illustration on its front page showing many vacant seats at Massey Hall at the Government's final rally a day or so before the electors went to the polls. But it all proved a delusion and a snare to opposition candidates and their supporters. The reason is fairly obvious.

People nowadays, no matter what their political leanings may be, do not have to put in an appearance at a campaign meeting, because in most households the radio has been installed. Not all political speeches, of course, are broadcast; but if a special appeal is made by any political leader, or if some important point is judged worthy of emphasis, the microphone usually is pressed into the service of the party desirous of making its pleas more generally known.

This is not to say, however, that political leaders will consider it necessary only to hire broadcasting facilities for the dissemination of their views. There still will remain the personal equation, a factor which always will have an effect on the views of those electors, men and women, who are not so much swayed by hard and fast political arguments as by the manner in which they are appealed to personally.

We have had experience in British Columbia, and in Victoria in particular, of enthusiastic meetings that really have meant little or nothing to the final decision by the electors at the polls. Many times enthusiastic public meetings have turned out to be wholly unreliable as bases for accurate prophecy. So, in the future, party workers will have to reckon, not so much with the visible audience, with its enthusiasm, hand-clapping and cheering, as with that invisible audience which sits at home, smoking its pipe, turning the dial when it gets "fed up" with a threadbare theme. The "silent vote" will become more silent still.

A porter has been arrested on a charge of stealing $75,000 from Tom Mix. No wonder so many persons want to get into the movies.—St. Catharines Standard.

Sometimes the period of waiting for a son and a daughter to make up their minds on their careers is more of a burden on father than sending them through college was, even.—Kansas City Star.

DRUNKEN DRIVERS

The proportion of motor accidents due to drink is very great. In our opinion people who want to get drunk should do so at home, or their driving licenses should be confiscated immediately. The number of motor accidents grows every year, and the number of accidents as well. Let us agree that there are only responsible drivers on our roads.

CANADIAN COAL FOR CANADA

The coal industry in Canada needs for its development assistance from all the great Canadian corporations; in fact, it needs the help of the entire population. This assistance has been withheld in the past, and it is only when this anomaly disappears that our coal mines will be able to produce at their full capacity and to do good business.

Myrna Loy, exotic screen charmer, gives another of the fiery portrayals that have skyrocketed her into film stardom. This week, in "The Great Divide," Dorothy Mackail's starring picture, which is showing this week at the Capitol Theatre.

She plays a Mexican half-breed, whose heart is set on a man who cares nothing for her. The role calls for dancing of an alluring and mysterious kind.

Miss Loy recently completed the part of a tyger in "The Bengal" and of a strange mountain goddess in "The Black Watch." Before that she was a French half-breed in "The Desert Song." Because of her unusual characteristics she was called by one famous critic "an ice-cream on fire."

"JOURNEY'S END" VIVID WAR TALE

to the spirit of the author. Will this be shown in America? Or is it too good?" The London Times critic asks.

Was Written From Author's Own Letters From the Front Lines

When "Journey's End" comes to the Royal Victoria Theatre on November 10, Victoriaans may see a matinee Wednesday. Victoriaans will have their first chance to see one of the most talked of dramas of modern times. The play, written by Robert Cedric Sherriff, who was at the time of writing an insurance adjuster in London, has carried the critics and public of two continents by storm.

"Journey's End" was written by Mr. Sherriff from old letters that he had seen home while serving as a lieutenant in a Surrey regiment during the war. These letters related actual happenings of the front lines, and sketched the characters of the men who were Mr. Sherriff's companions while he endured hardships and faced death. Now, in the play, these situations and events stand out with the startling clarity that is born only by truth.

"Mr. Sherriff's play, after it was first written, made the rounds, unsuccessfully, of the offices of the London theatrical managers. Finally it was saved from possible oblivion by the Stage Society, a semi-amateur organization which put it on for a single performance. Seen by Maurice Brownie, manager of the Royal Victoria, it was undertaken to give it its professional presentation. It was an immediate and almost unheard-of success.

"LIVING CURTAIN" IS SHOW FEATURE

Used With Great Success in Philip Rodway's Pantomimes

Commencing next Monday and continuing for the balance of the week, with a Rodway matinee on Monday and a popular price matinee on Saturday, Philip Rodway, the Birmingham producer, will present his British Pantomime company at the Royal Victoria Theatre in two musical pantomimes which will be shown the first days of the month. The first will be "Humpty Dumpty," and the last three days, "Mother Goose."

For those who are acquainted with the remarkable success Mr. Rodway has achieved in improving Old Country musical comedies, nothing more need be said. To others, it may be mentioned that the British pantomime is the birthplace of the best light entertainment for eye and ear in the British Isles, and Philip Rodway is its benign father, mother and tutor.

He created a sensational success with "Humpty Dumpty" by the introduction of a magnificently "living curtain," and he has brought this feature to the Royal Victoria, together with the settings and arrangements for the Canadian tour this season. Great use is made of the "living curtain" with the fifty good-looking members of the company who participate in its formation. The whole orthodox settings of the pantomime, with one another in color and brilliancy.

The dresses, both the beautiful and the grotesque, give to the chorus a dignity and a position seldom permitted in musical comedy, and envelope the principals in glittering splendor.

STANDARD OIL TRUST PROFITS FROM BIG BREAK

The Third Diversified Standard Securities Limited benefited richly through the big break in the New York market, according to details of the trusts operation in Standard Oil shares, received here by S. W. Waller, Victoria manager of F. J. Fairhall and associates, from Mr. Fairhall, president of the company.

No. 3 Trust had 80 per cent of its money out on call and had not done any buying of any account until October 20, and we were able to buy the cream of common stocks at prices that will yield us from 8 to 12 per cent." Mr. Fairhall says in his letter to Mr. Waller. "We are also putting some bonds in No. 2 Trust and building it on a most conservative high yielding policy."

"No. 3 picked up some wonderful bargains, but still on November 1 had 70 per cent of its money in cash, and is prepared to step into the market at any time and take advantage of the exceptional bargains that are going the rounds."

"We have, do not consider that the bargains will be over for quite some time, therefore we feel no necessity for getting excited and jumping in. This policy seems to be correct, because had we bought on the first break, we would be out of luck right now. We believe that many trusts bought on the break and are now regretting it."

"The best way to profit is to wait for the investment trusts that are liquid. They can take advantage of the many bargains that are available, and will be available during the coming months."

No. 1 and No. 2 Trusts were also great successes, Mr. Waller said, having all their securities bought at prices lower than the low of the market break and locked away without any charge against them.

GRAND CONCERT BY FIRST CHOIR

Local Group of Singers to Make First Appearance Since Seattle Triumph

First United Church choir will make its first public appearance in Victoria since its spectacular triumph at the recent musical festival in Seattle at a recent concert to be given in Amphiion Hall on Tuesday, November 19, under the auspices of the Royal Society of St. George.

In open competition with the large choirs in the west, the Victoria choir not only were winners of the sweepstakes for the highest points scored in the festival, and also the cup symbolic of the championship of the State of Washington for large choirs, but were also winners of the first honors in the ladies' choir competition. They have also scored notable successes in the Vancouver and Victoria musical festivals.

Proceeds of great variety will be contributed, and will include some entirely new numbers for Victoria audiences. Solo and humongous readings will be given, as well as two choruses which formed the competitive basis for the choirs at the Seattle musical festival.

Tickets may be secured from W. C. Pye at the Scotland Woolen Mills, Yates Street; Fletcher Bros. and Davis and King's music store.

B.C. Asked To Increase Exhibit At Toronto Fair

Vancouver, Nov. 8.—H. W. Waters, general manager of the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, and H. R. Jenkinson, manager of the agricultural department, are guests of the Vancouver Exhibition Association today.

Primary object of the visit of Messrs. Waters and Jenkinson is to interview Premier Tolmie and his Cabinet with respect to next year's British Columbia exhibit at Toronto.

It has been decided that 1939 is to be "All Canada" year at the Canadian National Exhibition. In furtherance of this idea the management desires each of the provincial governments to enter and broaden the scope of its exhibit.

Confidence in the willingness of Premier Tolmie to co-operate was expressed by the officials here to-day.

Vancouver Committee Continues Fight For Mrs. MacGill's Reinstatement

Resolution Places Responsibility on Vancouver Members of House

Vancouver, Nov. 8. — An open letter to Premier Tolmie in reply to his published statement to the committee interested in the reinstatement of Mrs. Helen Gregory MacGill as juvenile court judge, and a resolution placing the responsibility on the Vancouver members of the Government resulted from yesterday's meeting of the committee.

The letter refutes the Premier's arguments, statement by statement, and says in part:

"Our committee continues to agree with the acknowledged authorities in this field, that the juvenile court should function as a social clinic for the reforming of youthful delinquents rather than as an ordinary legal tribunal for punishment only. The Dominion Act copies attached, supports us in this ideal."

"We are forced both by study and practical experience to endorse this principle rather than the one outlined in your letter when you concluded that a barrister is particularly needed in the person of the juvenile court judge. Neither in England nor in Canada are any of the members of the bar, clerical, and many of the members of the church, bishops, and other leaders in social service in their communities, of the opinion that certain legal knowledge is necessary."

Judge MacGill proves conclusively that the Government had no reason to doubt her legal ability. The public are aware that she has compiled a book on the social laws of British Columbia, four times, and that these pamphlets are used extensively as handy references by both men and women's societies. That she has ample legal training for the position she clearly shown during the two years of service there was but one appeal from her decisions, and in this instance she was sustained by the higher court, both in law and fact."

SITUATION INTENSIFIED

After outlining Mrs. MacGill's broad social training and touching upon the other points referred to by the Premier, the letter observes:

"Some of the members of the Cabinet have no doubt felt at times that the intensity of the situation in which we are now involved would subside. Naturally the committee has many times considered the same possibility. We realize that as committee we would be in a position to bring about a change in the public opinion back of us. The publication of your letter, however, called forth a fresh burst of enthusiasm. New members joined our committee and we are in daily receipt of signatures to the petition.

"We have no course open to us but to continue to press for the reinstatement of Judge MacGill. The enclosed resolution is being widely circulated. Definite arrangements are being made for a public meeting on the most auspicious date this time and place will be announced later. The members of the Government will be cordially invited to attend and take part in the discussion."

THE RESOLUTION

The resolution passed yesterday follows:

"That while we, the committee interested in the reinstatement of Judge Helen Gregory MacGill in juvenile court, have been in conference with Dr. S. F. Tolmie as Premier and the Honorable the Attorney-General, we believe that the adjustment of the juvenile court difficulty is the immediate concern of the representatives of the city of Vancouver, and we fully realize that it is the responsibility of the Vancouver members of the Government to find a solution of this difficulty satisfactory to the petitioners. That copies of this resolution be sent to Hon. S. L. Howe, Hon. R. L. Maitland, Hon. W. C. Shelly and Col. Nelson Spencer, Wm. Dick, Thos. Kirk and Geo. Walkem."

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Darnell were at home yesterday, and to-day to a large number of friends at their new home on Upper Terrace, The Uplands, Chrysanthemums in various shades were used in the decoration of the reception rooms, mauve predominating in the sunroom, bronze and yellow in the drawing-room, and yellow in the bowl which centred the tea table in the dining-room.

The Thursday, November 14, has been chosen, by Miss Anna McRae of Vancouver, for her marriage to Mr. James C. McRae, former pastor of First Presbyterian Church, the ceremony taking place at 8 o'clock in the evening at Canadian Memorial Church, Vancouver. Miss Dorothy Gillespie and her sister, Miss Dorothy, are the bride's attendants while Mr. John McRae, son of the best man, is the groom. Miss McRae is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McRae of Cedar Crescent, while Mr. McRae is the son of Mrs. Margaret McRae of Victoria and the late Hugh McRae of Greenwood.

Mrs. McRae had the misfortune to fall and fracture her hip a year ago, and was bed-ridden until the time of her death. She lived to mourn her loss one daughter, Mrs. David Wright of Calgary, and three grandchildren, Mrs. Snow Sears, and Mr. Walter W. McRae, Mrs. Elizabeth McRae, Mrs. M. Burgess of Waukegan, Mich. "We are forced both by study and practical experience to endorse this principle rather than the one outlined in your letter when you concluded that a barrister is particularly needed in the person of the juvenile court judge. Neither in England nor in Canada are any of the members of the bar, clerical, and many of the members of the church, bishops, and other leaders in social service in their communities, of the opinion that certain legal knowledge is necessary."

Judge MacGill proves conclusively that the Government had no reason to doubt her legal ability. The public are aware that she has compiled a book on the social laws of British Columbia, four times, and that these pamphlets are used extensively as handy references by both men and women's societies. That she has ample legal training for the position she clearly shown during the two years of service there was but one appeal from her decisions, and in this instance she was sustained by the higher court, both in law and fact."

SITUATION INTENSIFIED

After outlining Mrs. MacGill's broad social training and touching upon the other points referred to by the Premier, the letter observes:

"Some of the members of the Cabinet have no doubt felt at times that the intensity of the situation in which we are now involved would subside. Naturally the committee has many times considered the same possibility.

We realize that as committee we would be in a position to bring about a change in the public opinion back of us. The publication of your letter, however, called forth a fresh burst of enthusiasm. New members joined our committee and we are in daily receipt of signatures to the petition.

"We have no course open to us but to continue to press for the reinstatement of Judge MacGill. The enclosed resolution is being widely circulated. Definite arrangements are being made for a public meeting on the most auspicious date this time and place will be announced later. The members of the Government will be cordially invited to attend and take part in the discussion."

THE RESOLUTION

The resolution passed yesterday follows:

"That while we, the committee interested in the reinstatement of Judge Helen Gregory MacGill in juvenile court, have been in conference with Dr. S. F. Tolmie as Premier and the Honorable the Attorney-General, we believe that the adjustment of the juvenile court difficulty is the immediate concern of the representatives of the city of Vancouver, and we fully realize that it is the responsibility of the Vancouver members of the Government to find a solution of this difficulty satisfactory to the petitioners. That copies of this resolution be sent to Hon. S. L. Howe, Hon. R. L. Maitland, Hon. W. C. Shelly and Col. Nelson Spencer, Wm. Dick, Thos. Kirk and Geo. Walkem."

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Darnell were at home yesterday, and to-day to a large number of friends at their new home on Upper Terrace, The Uplands, Chrysanthemums in various shades were used in the decoration of the reception rooms, mauve predominating in the sunroom, bronze and yellow in the drawing-room, and yellow in the bowl which centred the tea table in the dining-room.

The Thursday, November 14, has been chosen, by Miss Anna McRae of Vancouver, for her marriage to Mr. James C. McRae, former pastor of First Presbyterian Church, the ceremony taking place at 8 o'clock in the evening at Canadian Memorial Church, Vancouver. Miss Dorothy Gillespie and her sister, Miss Dorothy, are the bride's attendants while Mr. John McRae, son of the best man, is the groom. Miss McRae is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McRae of Cedar Crescent, while Mr. McRae is the son of Mrs. Margaret McRae of Victoria and the late Hugh McRae of Greenwood.

Mrs. McRae had the misfortune to fall and fracture her hip a year ago, and was bed-ridden until the time of her death. She lived to mourn her loss one daughter, Mrs. David Wright of Calgary, and three grandchildren, Mrs. Snow Sears, and Mr. Walter W. McRae, Mrs. Elizabeth McRae, Mrs. M. Burgess of Waukegan, Mich. Mrs. McRae was an aunt of the late Rev. Donald Fraser, former pastor of First Presbyterian Church here. The funeral was held in Vancouver, November 7, where the remains now rest in the family plot in Mountain View Cemetery.

A very pretty cup and saucer-shower was held recently at the home of Mrs. G. Shingbenton, Ralph Street, in honor of Miss Ethel Hawes, whose marriage takes place shortly to Mr. Leslie Simmonds. The bride-elect's mother was presented with a lovely bouquet by Thelma Woolston. The evening was spent in socializing with friends. Those present were: Madam Foster, Akers, Telephone 8080.

B.C.'s Birthday To Be Observed By Chapter

Final arrangements for the commemoration of the seventy-first birthday of the Colony of British Columbia to be held at the Empress Hotel on Tuesday, November 19, were made at the monthly meeting of the Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., yesterday afternoon. The event is under the distinguished patronage of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Miss Helen MacKenzie, the Premier and Mrs. Teekie, and Mayor and Mrs. Anscomb.

The musical programme is being arranged by members of the Gemmocore Broughton Chapter, who are co-operating with the Lady Douglas Chapter in their commemoration of the historic occasion. Tickets are being sold by members of both chapters and will also be on sale at Terry's and Fletcher's Music Store. The programme will commence at 8:15 p.m. The report of the meeting of the Provincial Chapter was given by Miss Josephine Crease, who attended as the chapter's delegate.

The report of the bridge party on October 22 was brought in by the convener, Mrs. Teekie, and very satisfactory returns were shown. The chapter voted $5 to both the poppy campaign and to the drive for the Blind Institute, and members were asked for contributions to the Local Council of Women rummage sale which is to be held on Saturday, November 10, at 846 Cormont Street, where articles for sale should be sent on Thursday, November 1.

The chapter presented a package of cigarettes and greeting cards to each of the "old acquaintables" at the banquet given to them by the British Campaigners last week, and a reply expressing gratitude was received from the organization. The chapter expressed thanks and appreciation to Mrs. Rathorn for her timely poem for the occasion. An invitation to attend the dedication of a marker commemorating the explorations of Capt. George Vancouver is being sent to the chapter.

The musical programme was received by the chapter from the Michael Trebert Chapter of Port Angeles, Wash., and gratefully acknowledged. The regent, Mrs. R. B. McMicking, and Mrs. T. H. Brown, were the guests of the Girl Guides on Saturday afternoon at the swimming gala, when the chapter's silver challenge cup was presented.

The educational secretary, Mrs. Hayward, has purchased two sets of books for presentation to the Sir James Douglas and Burwash Schools to commemorate Armistice Day, and the chapter was invited to attend the exercises at the High School on Friday morning. The chapter will be represented at the ceremonies at the war memorial on Armistice Day.

Wedding Held At St Martin's Last Evening

St. Martin's-in-the-Fields was the scene last evening of the wedding of Edith Ellen Mabbott, young daughter of Mr. Samuel Mabbott of London, England, and the late Mr. Mabbott and Mr. Sydney Ernest Western, youngest son of Mr. William Western of London, England, and the late Mrs. Western. Rev. Canon Stocken performed the ceremony in the presence of many friends of the contracting parties.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. James Mabbott, the bride was beautifully gown in a French model gown of oyster georgette, smartly fashioned, with which was worn a silk embroidered veil, held in place on the head with a coronet of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was composed of white carnations, and white and pink bridal roses.

She was attended by her three nieces, Miss Evelyn Mermod wearing delicate crepe de Chine and the Misses Marion and Lillian Mermod in pink crepe de Chine. They each carried early Victorian bouquets of mauve and pink flowers.

The groom was supported by Mr. Jack Hudson.

Miss Stoken presided at the organ and played the wedding marches. The hymn "The Voice That Breathed Over Men" was sung after the marriage service. For the occasion, the church had been prettily decorated by Mrs. R. H. B. Ker, Mrs. Stonewell and Mrs. Higgins.

Following the ceremony, a reception

FIRST AIR BABY NOW NEEDS NAME

It wasn't an "air male," as might be supposed, but a seven and a half-pound daughter who was born to Mrs. Margaret Evans in an aeroplane flying 1,200 feet above Miami, Fla. The mother and the baby "aress" are pictured above after the first aerial birth on record. In the "flying maternity hospital"—a large cabin plane—were nurses, a doctor, relatives of the mother, and two pilots. An airy name is being sought for the child.

YOUR BABY and MINE for MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Miss Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

FEEDING BOTTLES LIFTED FROM HOT WATER WITH CAN OPENER

Mrs. H. G. writes:—Thanks for all the good suggestions in this paper. Being a professional chemist I appreciate the definiteness of your feeding instructions. Here is a suggestion that may prove helpful to your readers. In lieu of a utensil made for the purpose, the common can-opener is splendid for lifting the feed bottles from hot water. Insert the corkscrew into the neck, bottle rests against the wooden handle and strains and it can be set down without touching.

It is a great blow to any child who has been the centre of attraction to step back into second place. He finds suddenly that other children have told him he is a big boy now, being a big boy has no advantages except being left alone. The baby, with all his habits, gets the attention. He gets the attention because he is the less attention his mother devotes just that much more time to the baby.

So big boy reveres to his baby habits, and tries to feed himself, and acts in general just like a baby, having no profit by it and put himself back into his old position in the house. Instead he gets paddled.

The mother should show the older child her appreciation of his new boy or girl status. Encourage him by leaning on him, asking his help with the baby, etc. Don't forget that he is still small enough, always to need a constant reassurance of her love for him. And never, no matter what the provocation, should the mother compare him unfavorably with the baby. By such foresights she avoids any cause for jealousy and everyone is happy.

ANSWER

That sounds fine. I understand this is really a cork-screw and not just a metal can-opener. The can-opener would do also. The danger of draining scalding water on the sensitive finger-tips is always present when one lifts out bottles.

A GRANDMOTHER'S TIP

Mrs. W. T. G. writes:—Please tell your readers to forget the other baby when making a fuss over the new baby. Poor little Bobby, who had been all in all smoothed down his face and said: "Ms nice, too!" I gave the company the tip and from that time on we saw to it that the little darling had his share of attention.

ANSWER

Mothers seem to be particularly blind to the evidence of jealousy displayed by their older children after they have been born.

MUSICAL PROGRAMME

In connection with the event there was a very attractive programme of music, arranged by Miss Claudet, and the following took part: Mrs. Deauville, who gave piano solos in addition to accompanying the singers; Miss Hargreaves who played the cello, and Miss Claudet and Captain Laycock, who sang some duibbles. A delicious tea was served at the pretty decorated tables under the chairmanship of Mrs. Snowden and Mrs. Schatz.

You can leave a stone in the dishwater all day

It cannot dissolve . . . it will do nothing . . . but you can depend upon it to "last."

Most soaps are like that . . . hard and "lasting." But this "lasting" quality is deceptive. It means rubbing and rubbing to get suds.

Suds should come quickly and easily . . . as Sunlight suds do. Sunlight is all pure soap. It is purposely made to dissolve freely. No need to rub hard with a bar of Sunlight to get suds . . . and as for leaving Sunlight Soap in the water that's unnecessary—even wasteful.

Yet because Sunlight is all pure soap it is more economical . . . bar for bar it washes more clothes than common soaps.

Do you wonder that millions of women the world over have grown impatient with low quality soaps . . . now use Sunlight . . . and never could be content with any other soap?

Then look for the $5,000 Sunlight Guarantee of Purity. It means real economy—longer life to your clothes—protection to your hands.

Ashamed of his wife!

How she had changed!

Once, the prettiest in her crowd. Now, she was lifeless. What had happened? What had stolen her vital freshness—the charm she used to have? She wasn't old—but now . . . why sometimes she was actually ashamed!

Many a man wonders and many a woman worries as youth and freshness quickly fade. What a different story if they but realized the dreadful part constipation plays in wrecking health and vigor! For no one need suffer from constipation. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—a delicious cereal—is guaranteed to bring prompt relief. To safely prevent this evil ever beginning!

Why ALL-BRAN is necessary

To relieve constipation naturally, the system must get plenty of bulk or roughage. ALL-BRAN furnishes this bulk in generous quantity. Here is what happens: It absorbs moisture and carries it through the intestines—exercising them, gently sweeping out poisonous wastes. In a part-bran product there is seldom enough bulk to properly do this work. That is why doctors recommend Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

How much better is ALL-BRAN than habit-forming drugs and laxatives whose doses must constantly increase to keep effective. ALL-BRAN works as nature intended. A pleasant cereal that provides vital roughage. Eat it with milk or cream. Add fruits or honey. Sprinkle it into soups. Mix it with other cereals. Cook with it. Recipes on package.

Just eat two tablespoonsful in some form daily—chronic cases with every meal. Every woman can help her family to better health by adopting its regular use.

But don't take chances with part-bran substitutes. Get Kellogg's—the original ALL-BRAN. Sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, restaurants—on diners. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

PEDEN STARS AS FOUREX DEFEAT "Y"

Drops in Nineteen Points as His Team Scores 33-24 Victory

Doo Dads Play Brilliantly to Defeat College; Keating Come Through

Fourx and Keating remained in the race for Senior "C" hoop honors by virtue of their victories over the Y.M.C.A. and Mac and Mac at the Centennial gymnasium last night. In an exhibition game the Doo Dads soundly defeated the Victoria College five by a 32-11 score.

Fourx, in their game with the "Y" had a little trouble getting started, and at the start of the game were few points behind. Don Fish and Bob Peden got into action and the former turned in their favor. The former player scored nineteen of his team's thirty-three points and played well throughout the game. The 33-24 score does not represent the trend of the work that should fall on the shoulders of the skipper.

Hal Yorke, who last season guarded Seattle's nets until his health became so poor that he had to retire, expects to leave for Portland in a few days. Yorke will battle it out with a couple of youngsters for the regular goal-tending job with Bobby Howe's Buckaroos. Hal says he's feeling fine as a Dodo and expects to play a Pacific Coast League game as a relief. "Sad Sam" Timmins, who guarded the Portland net last season, has been recalled by Minneapolis, who loaned him to the Bucks.

Russell Oatman, former member of the Victoria Cougars, will play in the minor division with the team owned by the New York Rangers to the Hamilton Club of the International Hockey League. Oatman was obtained by the Rangers from the Montreal Maroons. This summer when Lester Patrick was in Victoria he stated that Oatman probably won't play very well last season, so his sale does not come as a surprise.

He Fowler and her former Victoria pro hockey player, passed through Vancouver this week en route to Oak-land, where he will help form a team to compete in the California Hockey League. Fowler played in a goal for Victoria for several years, being finally replaced by "Happy" Holmes. He stayed out of hockey for a year but broke in again last season in the California League.

Tom Shaughnessy, who is managing the Chicago Black Hawks, this season is the first and only United States born manager of a National Hockey League team. Innovations galore have been introduced by Shaughnessy, including the use of a "coach" who, first of all, took them to the Notre Dame football field for twelve days of preliminary training before taking any kind of ice practice. He established the training table and also put his team under strict military discipline by employing an army physical instructor. He started getting his team in condition ten days earlier than other teams thought necessary.

Frank Nighbor has not yet reported to the Ottawa Club. Frank hasn't made up his mind, he contends, that he desires to play any more hockey. The usual, no doubt, He'll be out there again. It gets them all; the lure of combat.

Teddy Oke of the Canadian pro league has twenty-two players working out in advance. Recently he disposed of Bill Loughlin, former Victoria Cougar, to Cleve-land.

The Victoria Senior Amateur Base-ball League has, since its start, over eleven of the players under their jurisdiction playing two exhibition games last Labor Day against the Victoria Canadians, another Victoria club. The league suspended the eleven players and told them they had to write letters of apology before they would be taken into the good graces of the league again. Six of the eleven did this while the remaining five failed to take any notice of the league's demands and as a result have been indefinitely suspended.

The legal league has left a final decision on the case of the five players to the British Columbia Amateur Baseball Association, but it is nearly a safe bet that the provincial body will take no action on the case, but will refer the matter back to the general league. The B.C.A.B.A. has bigger ambitions to say about than the case of five players who merely played against another home town club a couple of exhibition games.

Pittsburgh to Have One of Fastest Teams in N.H.L.

Recruits Expected To Provide Punch Lacking Last Year

Pirates Did Their Shopping Early This Season, Obtaining Splendid New Material; Club Will Be Well-balanced With Seasoned Veterans and Youngsters; New Forward Pass Also Expected to Help Team; Bud Jarvis, Former Port Arthur Star, Signs.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 8.—While few hockey followers look upon Pittsburgh as a serious contender for major honors in the National Hockey League this season, the Pirates can be counted on to show more strength than last year in every department. Pre-season indications are for improvement both offensively and defensively and it is certain that Pittsburgh will have one of the fastest teams in the circuit.

Owner Benny Leonard and Frank Fredrickson, centre ice star, who has been made player-manager, did their shopping early and have brought back a supply of new material which on paper and in the early training sessions seems certain to supply the power and punch that were sadly lacking last season.

The Pirates purchased Archie Briden, veteran forward and captain of the Canadian-American League. Briden has been up in the major league before with the Boston and Detroit clubs. Bud Jarvis comes to Pittsburgh from the Port Arthur amateur champions of Canada. He is a forward.

Owen Ahearn, who comes from the St. Francis Xavier Club, Montreal amateur, will be tried out in a defense position.

MANY FINE VETERANS

The veterans from last season's squad form one of the fastest and cleanest groups of players in the circuit. In goal will be Joe Miller, obtained from New York Americans, and ready for Roy Worts, Roger Smith, Johnny McCaffrey, form an addition and Al McCaffrey, form an and druggists everywhere sell it with adequate husky defense trio. Hib centre as well as play left wing. Harold Darragh, holder of the league's clean play trophy, is one of the best right wingers in the business. On the second line are Jim Lowery, left winger, Tex White, right wing, and Herb Drury, centre.

Miller will relieve Fredrickson at

The Pirates were recognized as one of the fastest skating clubs in the league last year. Fredrickson looks for even more speed during the 1929-30 season, which will be played under rules putting a premium on speed. This with the forward pass in all zones, is expected to win many games for the Pirates.

New York, Nov. 8.—Maryland racing fans turned yesterday from racing on the flat to watch the jumpers-battle for the Master of Fox Hounds steeplechase purse in the feature race over the trying three miles of brush at Pimlico.

A. F. Goodwin produced the winner in Marbro, which scored an easy victory with Mr. Street in the saddle. Covering the course in 8:10 4-5, the Goodwin jumper beat the others in front of W. A. Phillips' Known How to win the $14,500 purse.

James Simpson Jr.'s Klarinski was third, with Dublin Goods and Crack Willow, the favorites, far out of the money.

The long shots scored heavily. Thus went over in the opening number, despite the high regard Plumper, to pay $32.30 for a $2 win ticket. In the second race Macil came through with a startling victory and rewarded his scattered backers $72.80 for every $2 invested.

Aspirant For Heavyweight Title Charged With Attacking W. D. Gruber

Elyria, Ohio, Nov. 8.—Johnny Risko, Cleveland, heavyweight fighter, who seeks the crown that Tunney tossed aside, settled a $10,000 damage suit out of court here late yesterday, remarking that the reason for this action was that he "didn't like courts."

The boxer was called to the stand yesterday after Walter D. Gruber had testified before a jury in common pleas court that Risko had attacked and beat him on the night of April 24, 1928, following an automobile accident.

Hagen and Moe Fail to Settle Thrilling Match

Eugene, Ore., Nov. 8.—In one of the greatest golf exhibitions ever witnessed here, Walter Hagen, British open champion, and Don Mor, western open champion and student of the University of Oregon here, finished all square on the eighteenth hole of the Eugene Golf and Country Club course Thursday in an exhibition match. Both had 73s, one above par.

Moe led his more experienced opponent 2 up at the end of the first nine, but Hagen evened the count on the fifteenth.

The boxer was called to the stand yesterday after Walter D. Gruber had testified before a jury in common pleas court that Risko had attacked and beat him on the night of April 24, 1928, following an automobile accident.

Risko denied that he hit Gruber, saying Gruber swung at him first and missed, and that he had also swung and missed. When asked how he accounted for the bruises which a physician had testified were found on Gruber's body, Risko said: "Well, it might have bruised him."

"What might have bruised him?" the attorney asked, "the wind?"

"If I had hit him, he wouldn't have been here to sue me," Risko said to a reporter later in informing them about the settlement out of court.

Senior, Junior and Juvenile Elevens In Eight Matches

Six First Division Clubs Will Perform in Regular League Games; Victoria Wests Play League-leading Saanich Thistles in Feature Tilt at Beacon Hill; Junior Clubs Will Be Engaged in Cup Ties.

A heavy programme of football will be offered to-morrow, with eight matches scheduled in the senior, junior and juvenile leagues. The First Division has three regular league fixtures carded, while junior teams will play in two cup-tie games and the juveniles in three league fixtures. In the senior matches Jokers play the Five C's at the Royal Athletic Park, Victoria West and the Saanich Thistles meet at Beacon Hill and Victoria City and Esquimalt clash at Work Point Barracks.

The complete afternoon's programme follows:

JUNIOR
Jokers vs. Five C's at Royal Athletic Park; referee, Woodley.
Victoria West vs. Saanich Thistles, at Beacon Hill; referee, Payne.
Victoria City vs. Esquimalt at Work Point Barracks; referee, Armstrong.
Kick-offs at 3 o'clock.

JUVENILE
Division I
James Island vs. Oaklands, at Victoria West Park; referee, Davis.
Victoria City vs. Y.M.C.A. at Central Park; referee, Robb.
Kick-offs at 2:45 o'clock.

JUVENILE
Division II
Sons of England vs. Victoria West, at Royal Athletic Park; referee, McLean.
Five C's vs. Saanich Thistles, at Beacon Hill, upper ground; referee, McVane.
Kick-offs at 1:30 o'clock.

The senior match between the Wests and Thistles looks like the feature game of the day. In their last meeting the greenshirts handed the league leaders their third defeat of the season. "Scottie" Robinson scoring the only goal in the match a few minutes before time. However, last week the Wests met defeat at the hands of the Jokers in a Milton Cup semi-final.

ESQUIMALT STRENGTHENED
Esquimalt will present a strengthened line-up against the city. They have succeeded in getting Jimmy Hay and Boyd, two of the finest half-backs to ever perform on a local field, back on their line-up. For several seasons Hay was captain of the Esquimalt team, while last season Boyd started at the same half position.

After their victory over the Victoria Wests last Saturday the Jokers are figuring on taking the Five C's into camp.

The four Junior League teams are playing in the semi-final round of the Lower Island Football Cup.

Some of to-morrow's teams follow: Jokers (Seniors) — McKenzie, Carmichael; Clark, Banks, Sneddon, Burnett, Stevens, McEwan, D'Arcy and Stickney.

All players are asked to meet at the Tillicum gymnasium, Broad Street, at 2:15 o'clock.

Victoria City (Juniors) — Hood, Moody, Gelling, Smith, Cooper, Robson, Weston, Wright, Gibson, McMillan and Noble.

Five C's (Seniors) — Parquhar, Bridges, Harwood (capt.), Shanks, McConnell, Bundoock, Burgess, Fish, Sands, Lindsey and Shanks.

Victoria West (Juveniles, Division

Billiard Rules Undergo Change

London, Nov. 7.—Authorities in charge of professional billiard competition in England have seen fit to more or less revolutionize the system of scoring in the winter months.

must be decided on a time basis. When matches were decided on points it frequently occurred that one of the competitors would reach the necessary total in the course of an hour.

This proved an element of chance that was not considered desirable, as the player reaching the required number of points could, if he retained a winning position, monopolize the table and drag the match out. According to the new plan, the player scoring the most points in a given space of time will be declared the winner.

According to Mrs. Mark's story given to The Times, the man approached her from behind a telephone pole. Without saying a word he attempted to force a handful of leaves into her mouth and in the ensuing struggle Mrs. Mark's hat was forced over her eyes, effectively preventing her from seeing her assailant.

The police were notified by Mrs. Mark and subsequently Mr. Marks discovered the empty purse lying on the sidewalk not far from where the attack had taken place.

Mrs. Marks suffered severely from the shock. The mother of the young girl who was accosted last night on Haultain Street, said the youth approached her daughter as she was going home and asked her the time and then questioned her as to where she was going. The frightened girl had been on and when someone appeared in the distance he made off. He was tall and wore a dark suit, she said.

C. N. R. Brings 1982 Families to Canada

Large Number of British Families Arrive to Take Up Farming Land in the Dominion; Plans Now Being Made to Erect 100 Cottages for Immigrant Farmers in Western Canada.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 8.—"While the individual settler does not usually bring large capital to Canada, yet in the aggregate a very large amount of new capital is put into circulation in the West through the annual influx of immigrant families taking up land," stated Dr. W. J. Black, director of colonization, agriculture and natural resources for the Canadian National Railways, who is in Winnipeg today in conference with western region colonization and agriculture officials of the company.

"This year, alone," continued Dr. Black, "farming families entering the country under the auspices of the railway have deposited $545,390 in trust with the Canadian National Railway, and it is a very conservative estimate to say that well over a million dollars has been brought into the country by farming families who were assisted by the Canadian National during the past year."

FAMILIES ARRIVE.

"During the current year our land settlement association has settled on land throughout Western Canada for 1,265 families," said Dr. Black. "In addition, a further 717 families have been settled in the West through agencies and organizations with whom the Canadian National Railways operate in colonization matters, making a total of 1,982 families established on 345,088 acres."

He went on to say, "The movement of land settlers this year has been characterized by a marked interest in the homestead district of Northern Saskatchewan and Alberta. From the beginning of January to the end of October last year 9,213 homes

Around the Docks

More than twelve hours ahead of schedule, due to fine weather, the Canadian Australasian liner Niagara docked at the Ritz Pier last evening at 10:30 o'clock and proceeded to Vancouver at 10:30 o'clock. The ship brought in a light list, there being only thirty-three passengers in the first cabin, thirty-three in the second and twenty-seven in the third. For Victoria, the ship had fifty-four tons of cargo, 1,100 tons going on to Vancouver.

King Brothers, local shipping agents, expect the freighter Bronze here at the Ogden Point piers tomorrow to commence loading 1,200,000 feet of Vancouver Island timber for ports in the Orient. The ship will be here over the weekend.

Slightly delayed by fog as she crept of the Strait from Cape Flattery last night, it was 11:25 a.m. before the Pacific Steel and Company's coastal passenger liner Dorothy Alexander arrived at the Ritz Pier from San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco. After discharging fifty-four tons of cargo and discharging fifty-seven passengers, the ship left for Seattle at 1 o'clock this morning.

Dr. Black stated that during 1929 the British family placements showed an increase of over twenty-five per cent. "These families," said Dr. Black, "are of a fine type and the majority of them are satisfactorily settled and contented with their lot in Western Canada. However, our organization makes the most successful settlers, in conjunction with the British Columbia Colonization Company, arranged for the building of 100 cottages throughout Western Canada. These cottages will be built in districts where farm employment is available for the families. Several of these cottages have been completed and it is proposed to have them occupied by British families who will be brought forward to assist in the building of the cottages.

The liner Niagara, which docked last night from Australia and Honolulu, will sail from this port Monday next with a large number of passengers, more than 500 travelers already being booked for the trip "down under."

The liner Niagara, which is expected at the Belleville Street docks this evening at 11 o'clock from ports on the west coast of Vancouver Island as far north as Port Alice. It was hoped to have the Norah in service to Alaska this month, but the recent collision between the Princess Louise and the Princess Marguerite has made it necessary for the Norah to continue on the West Coast route. It is possible the Norah may sail to Alaska on November 26.

The Daily Newspaper is the Proven Road to Merchandising Success

IN Canada 96 daily newspapers function to satisfy the demand of the people of this country for an accurate and complete account of world news. Canadians are essentially a news-minded people. They "want to know" and know immediately. And they depend on their daily newspapers to keep them informed of the progress of current affairs throughout the vast expanse of this Dominion, in the sister nations of the Empire and foreign lands.

Canadian daily newspapers enlist cable, telegraph, airplane and other time-annihilating devices in order that the millions of Canadian daily newspaper readers may obtain all the news instantly.

In recording events of world-wide significance as well as those of purely local interest, Canadian daily newspapers perform an indispensable service in the trading areas which they cover. They voice and mould public opinion. They occupy a position in Canadian life which is filled by no other institution.

Daily newspapers in Canada are by far the most effective advertising media—for both retailer and manufacturer—because of their close, intimate contact with Canadian men and women.

To the retailer, the daily newspaper affords concentrated circulation at the point of publication and in its immediate trading area.

To the manufacturer, Canadian daily newspapers offer the most economical means of tying up national distribution with national advertising. They also permit of intensive campaigns and concentrated effort in selected zones.

Reaching all classes, appealing to every member of the family, possessing a degree of flexibility obtainable in no other medium, producing immediate sales results, the daily newspaper is the keystone of every successful advertising campaign in Canada.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited) Winnipeg, Nov. 8—Wheat: The market was just as weak to-day as it was strong yesterday. With buyers of yesterday throwing their holdings overboard due to the weak and disappointing cables and the lack of any material export business prices on the extreme break were from 2½ to 3½ cents under last night's close, while Chicago was 8½ cents down.

In the late trade Chicago took a little spur upward and this market followed, but the buying was not of the best, being a little covering by early sellers and some buying against the daily bids, and there was no real strength in the upturns.

Offerings were not heavy at any time and so far there has been no liquidation in evidence by the big interests who are understood to be holding the big of wheat.

The local cash market continues very dull and without feature. There was one or two degrees of frost reported in Argentine on Wednesday night, but was not sufficient to damage the wheat crop at this stage.

The Argentine crop is now reported to be better than average although the acreage is a little smaller.

The general wheat situation looks heavy and unless Europe shortly shows more interest in these markets, the general opinion is that prices will work lower.

Coarse grains: There was an extremely light business passing in the grain to-day. Prices were sharply lower but firmed slightly in the late trade. There were a few sales made in oats to eastern Canada but smaller than what has been passing daily. There was nothing doing in rye or barley.

Flax: This market was also weak and closed 3½ to 2 cents lower. No feature to the trade which continues light.

WALL ST. MARKET QUIETENS AS SALES DROP OFF

Hope Expressed on All Sides
Worst is Over; Long Dull
Period Expected

New York, Nov. 8.—The market quietened down to-day, with sales total dropping down to 3,139,000 shares, which is less than half the total of yesterday, which went over 7,000,000.

At the close the Dow Jones average of thirty industrials stood at 236.53.

off 1.66 points for the day; and for twenty rails at 147.32, up .47 points for the day.

Governors of the exchange voted this afternoon to continue all next week the practice of closing the exchange at 1 p.m. daily, with no session Saturday.

Money held at 4 per cent.

Trading seemed relatively normal to-day.

"Wall Street seriously entertained the idea that urgent liquidation had been completed for the present, although, of course, there was no disposition to cover, and that important market interests were again taking an aggressive interest in the course of the market, with leading bankers showing a greater disposition to come to the aid of their favorites.

FORBES SEES WORST OVER

B.C. Forbes to-day came out with the announcement that he thinks low prices are now over.

"My bold guess is that yesterday marked the climax of the death grapple in Wall Street and that many stocks will not sell even one dollar below their present prices already reached," Mr. Forbes said.

"Had prices done nothing but sink lower and lower, the outlook would not have been hopeful. But the rallying ability, exhibited with bewildering suddenness from the low point, was a sure sign of old-times again, indicating that the tidal wave of selling has spent its main force. You can depend upon it, that not a little absorption of stock by genuine investors is under way."

PATIENCE IS URGED

Wall Street Mirror to-day issued the following to its clients:

"The market has struck bottom. "With the completion on Thursday, the situation has undergone a marked change. What is now to the point, the market did not need banking support to bring out the rally that got under way. From what can be learned in high quarters, banking buying was absent on Thursday morning.

"The next move is for the market to quieten down and get back to normal levels. The upturn of the last remains to be done. There is still a lot of cash buying waiting with bids just under the low prices registered yesterday and Tuesday of last week.

"As mentioned previously, there is no reason to rush in on the buying side. Buyers should place their orders now slightly lower the lows and be patient. The market will have alternate rallies and declines for some weeks to come. We can only wait now to see what effect the drastic corrective movement will have on the business of the nation. This will not be seen definitely for several months."

PIERCE'S ANALYSIS

E. A. Pierce and Co. issued the following analysis of the Wall Street situation:

"Stock prices have been pushed down to abnormally low levels, and forced liquidation has brought unusual investment opportunities. This is the time carefully to consider the fundamentals and to base all stock market action upon sound reasoning."

"Admitting that it is possible for stock prices to go lower, nevertheless we must emphasize the fact that gain yields have been reached. In many instances yields are high and the rates of return are attractive. This is the time to use surplus cash for the outright purchase of those stocks of merit which have been forced below their worth. We must remember that existing conditions will not continue indefinitely and will inevitably be followed by higher prices.

"It may take several months for the situation to become finally adjusted, but looking ahead a year or more, the conclusion is inescapable that stocks such as U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Westinghouse, Air Brake, Aetna, General Foods, Paramount, Famous-Lasky, Wash. Warner Bros., New York Central, Montgomery Ward, Phillips Petroleum, Simons Company, Timken, Holler Bearing and Standard Oil of New Jersey must stand higher.

"As a matter of fact, we consider it a reasonable probability that the outright purchase of ten selected stocks will result in an appreciation of 100 per cent before the end of 1930. Those who have surplus funds should seize this opportunity of investing in stocks of proven merit."

Practically all of the increase in gross exports reported by Norfolk & Western for the first three quarters of this year was carried through to net. As a result, after all other companies reported 1929 per-share, or a gain of 40 per cent over the results for the first nine months of last year, the market has shown a gain of 100 per cent for the year up to $12 per share can be considered very conservative. At current levels Norfolk is an unusually sound and attractive investment purchase.

WHITNEY LETTER

(By Bremner, Strode & Co. Limited)

New York, Nov. 8—Whitney of the Wall Street Financial Bureau says to-day:

"Definitely and unqualifiedly a panic has ended."

"There is no need of mincing words about what has transpired in the stock market in the last thirty days. It was just plain unrelenting panic and now that prices which produced prices for securities so ridiculously low that no one in the United States could have foreseen the extent to which the market would decline any more than an observer could tell you at what street a runaway horse would stop.

"There were many stock speculators in the period of the next few months, but healed they will be, and irrespective of what effect the stock market will have on general business in the year 1930 the fact remains that business could never be so poor—if indeed it is to be poor—to justify the prices at which large numbers of securities have sold this week."

"To the market as a whole, we have undoubtedly witnessed not the low prices of the year, but in many instances the low prices of this generation. Forgetting all the new era economic theories, the fact remains that when securities sell in the market at not more, in many instances, than four, five and six times their current earnings, we have bargains and these are still here."

"In my opinion the panic is definitely and unqualifiedly over and the improvement which started in yesterday's market, which was the second bargain day of the year, was an improvement which will continue for weeks and months. For any old timer running a portfolio of safe, established and slow improvement from an artificially low price level."

"Among the bargains which will be available, look to Erie in the 50s which will show around $9. St. Paul Pfd. in the 30s which will show around $8. Anaconda in the 80s which will show between $12 and $14. New Haven to go on a $6 basis, earning more than double that amount."

"Every sound oil is cheap and the matter practically every railroad stock."

"In the utilities don't forget that Brooklyn Union is worth 100 points more than present prices and will certainly sell at what it is worth."

"Use any dip under 110 to buy John-Manville for resumption of the move which was interrupted by the market in October."

"United Fruit has the best part of thirty points in it here and is the type of stock which will do the most for you in the next market phase."

"In the lower-priced issues don't overlook the bargain prices available in Byers Pipe and Monson Oil, in addition to which are buying American Radiator, Standard Sanitary which will soon reflect the advantages and increased profits resulting out of the active merger campaign which the company has recently brought to successful consummation."

The company has a very strong treasury position and its ability to earn money under such a situation should give it an added factor of a very strong competitive position. Purchase of A.F.I. on any weakness will result in very large profits when conditions improve in the future.

Famous Lasky earnings for the month of October were 68 per cent higher than for October, 1928, and present indications are that net profits for the final quarter will be even higher.

SAN FRANCISCO SHIPPING

San Francisco, Nov. 8.—On her voyage to the Dimson Line, the motorship Willmoto, Captain C. H. McOhan commanding, sailed from here yesterday. She will take on a cargo of 1,000 tons of general merchandise and will direct to the east coast. The Willmoto, under charter to the Dimson Line from George Williams, former owner of the former Williams' Company, and will be used to continue with the Dimson line service for two years.

Resting her moorings on the San Francisco waterfront, the liner Pennsylvania, one of the largest vessels laid down in the United States, was recently visited by hundreds of persons. The vessel took on outbound cargo to-day and will sail Saturday. Operators of the vessel announced that the ship's owners intended to fill her with oil on her outbound voyage.

CHAPTER VII

"Mr. Dowd, sir," a uniformed policeman announced to Lieutenant Strawn.

"Just a minute, Boyle. I'm Payne around."

"Talking to Mrs. Rhodes in the hall, sir."

"Send him in," Strawn ordered curtly. "I'll see Dowd in a minute."

When Payne, the detective who had notified the boarders of Mrs. Hogarth's death, appeared, Strawn gave him his instructions in a low, rapid voice:

"I'm going to be questioning the boarders. Payne and I want you to search each room while its occupant is in here with me. I've got a blanket search warrant that will cover the case technically. Do a thorough job—waste-baskets, trunks, desks, closets, everything. Use my bathrobe, keys. If you find anything that doesn't belong, we'll ask the owner to produce the key. The murdered woman was robbed, apparently, if the murderer found what he was looking for. She was supposed to have a pretty big wad of cash hidden in this room. Payne, I want you to go on. Look for it. I did say anything to you about Liberty bonds, stocks or any other kind of negotiable paper. Dundee" he called to the young detective stationed behind the wash basin screen.

"No, chief. She used the word 'money' several times, but didn't mention any stocks or bonds," Dundee answered.

"All right, Payne. Look for money, and if you find any, besides Petty cash, let me know, but don't touch it."

With Mrs. Hogarth's tablet of cheap, lined writing paper and a pencil passed from one of the joinings of the three-panel screen as Henry Dowd was ushered into the room.

To the diffidence which had characterized this very commonplace-looking man of near middle-age when Dundee had observed him at the commonplace face grew suddenly very pale. The hand which dabbed the handkerchief upon his forehead, higher than nature had intended it to be because baldness had begun to attack the limp, straight hair, shook visibly.

Dowd dropped his eyes to his notes. He had no relish for the third degree, no matter how mildly it was administered.

"I—the fact is," Henry Dowd confessed haltingly. "I'm—well, looking for an opening. I'm a salesman."

"What line?" Strawn snapped.

"Well, sir, I was asleep."

"When did you go to bed?"

"About 10 o'clock as usual. I'm not much on the social life, not much on the go-around. Henry Dowd explained carefully, and Dundee jotted his words down in a hasty shorthand of his own. "I came up to my room about 9, after sitting on the front porch after supper—dinner, they call it here. I pattered around the room for a while, then took a bath and went to bed. I was asleep."

"I fell asleep, with my light burning, and didn't wake up till some time later."

"And what woke you?" Strawn demanded, impatiently.

"It was that bird squawking, or a hen clucking. It's what it sounded like," Dowd answered, reluctantly, his eyes glancing toward the parrot.

"Was the bird talking?"

"No, just squawking, as if it was sore about something," Dowd answered. "I've heard it a good many times, though this is the first time I've ever laid eyes on it. I didn't hear anything else, and didn't think anything of it anyway, so I turned out my light and went right back to sleep. I was asleep again almost instantly."

"What's the matter?" Strawn asked. "Did you hear a noise or a squawking of the parrot, Dowd?" No footsteps, no voices, no sounds of objects being thrown about."

"I didn't hear a thing but the parrot. Dowd repeated ominously.

"What was that?"

"I thought so at the time. I'd heard it squawk before," Dowd an-sweared.

"Could the noise you heard have been Mrs. Hogarth trying to scream for help?" Strawn suggested.

"She was screaming at the parrot, to me," Dowd insisted, sullenly.

"What time was this?"

"I don't know. I didn't look at my watch. As I said, I was just roused up enough to realize I'd left my light burning, and to reach up and turn it off. I was asleep again almost instantly."

"What's the matter?" Strawn asked again.

"I'm afraid I've got to get up, that Mrs. Hogarth had been murdered."

"All right, Dowd. You'll be wanted for the inquest, of course, so don't leave Hamilton to look elsewhere for work. Do you plan to stay on here in this house?"

"I—" "Well, what's the matter?" Strawn asked again.

"I don't hear anything before you went to sleep?" Strawn probed, remembering Dundee's account of Mrs. Hogarth's several visitors that evening.

"In here, you mean?" Dowd asked.

"Well, I heard people laughing and talking, and I heard the parrot talking, but I didn't pay any attention. I was reading, and I wasn't interested anyway."

"How well did you know Mrs. Hogarth?" Strawn demanded suddenly.

"Why, I didn't know her at all," Dowd answered. "I'd never met Mrs. Hogarth, and I only happened to see her once, going down the hall toward the bathroom. I didn't see her face then—just her back, but I knew who she was because I'd heard the folks downstairs describe her as—well, pretty fat, sir."

"There was a knock on the door. 'Come in!'

"Telephone for you, sir," Mrs. Rhodes announced.

Keating

Stuart Stoddart presided at the weekly meeting of the South Saanich Young People's Club on Monday evening.

A. J. Keating, the president, was followed by a ten-minute talk on the Bible, given by Rev. M. W. Lees.

Further plans were made for the concert which the young people are presenting in the Temperance Hall on December 6, and practice on the play, "The Spinsters' Convention," was completed.

On the next meeting night, November 11, the literary committee will have charge and each member is requested to give a three-minute address on "Memories and Thoughts of Armistice."

The date of the Saanich Board of Trade's annual banquet has been changed from Friday evening, December 6, to Wednesday, December 4. The banquet will be held in the Institute Hall at Brentwood Bay.

At a recent meeting of the Saanich Pioneers' Society held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Madeline Sidney, plans were made for the annual old-timers dance to be held in the Agricultural Hall, Saanichton, on Friday evening, November 15. Good prizes will be given to the lady and man for the best pioneer costume in the year of 1880. An excellent orchestra is being arranged to entertain music for both young and old.

"And yet you weren't at all interested in the story of Mrs. Hogarth's board, hidden in the very room next to yours?" Strawn interrupted.

"No, sir. I wasn't. I had my own business to attend to."

The society urges pioneers receiving quinquennial awards to turn their backs forward to them to the secretary.

Anyone who came to Saanichton prior to 1880, who have not received a questionnaire should apply to the secretary of the society, R. Nimmo, Saanichton.

"It's a good tail," said Uncle Wig-gily, "and has a nice, white tip on the end of it."

"Yes, but see how he's wagging it!" whispered Tippy's mother.

And then Uncle Wiggily looked and saw that instead of wagging his tail from side to side, as most dogs do, Tippy's tail was bobbing up and down like a pump handle.

"Tippy," called his mother again.

"Uncle Wiggily is wagging!"

Then Tippy wagged his tail sideways, as it should be wagged for a while, but pretty soon as he smelt the carrot pie, he wagged it up and down again.

"I'm sure I don't know what to do with him," said Bow Wow.

"His father and I have tried to teach him to wag his tail sideways, but he can't seem to remember. He waggs it right for a while and then begins to bob up and down, wagging his tail like a dog gentleman he will grow to be."

"It is too bad," said Uncle Wiggily.

"Dogs' tails are made to wag sideways, and not up and down. It's as bad as a baby sucking her thumb."

"I think I can give Tippy some exercises to practice so he will soon get over his tail bobbing and wagging propensity."

"Oh, please do!" begged Mrs. Bow Wow.

"Even Tippy would have been glad to break himself of his bad habit."

Uncle Wiggily made Tippy stand in front of a low fence, with one rail that was just at the height of the pup's tail. Tippy stuck his tail over this fence rail and stood there.

Uncle Wiggily let him smell a piece of carrot pie.

At once Tippy started to wag his tail. But he couldn't wag it down because it rested on the fence rail so it had to wag sideways, slithering to and fro on the piece of wood with a sliding motion.

"Oh, how nice!" barked his mother.

"That's good tail wagging."

And always after that when Tippy felt like wagging his tail, he ran and stood with it over the fence rail and it couldn't wag up and down, so it had to wag sideways, and soon he was cured and wagged his tail the right way without the fence.

So if the auto will stand up on its back wheels and wave the front tires at the traffic cop, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Mr. Twit-

One morning, as Uncle Wiggily was eating breakfast in his hollow stump bungalow, Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy crept into the room with something in a paper bag.

"When you go out to-day, Uncle Wiggily," squeaked the muskrat lady housekeeper, "will you please leave that at the kennel of Mrs. Bow Wow?"

"What is it?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"It is some of the pie I baked for you yesterday out of the fresh carrots," spoke Nurse Jane. "In fact I made two pies and I thought I would send one to Mrs. Bow Wow. Her husband is very ill."

Should Wives Work Outside the Home?

Considers Housewife's Job Enough

The Girl Who Gives Up a Good Job to Get Married Can't Be Accused of Marrying to Get a Living, Nor Should She Be Expected to Support the Family and Run It, Too

A MAN writes me that he thinks the reason that so many marriages are failures is because what men desire in matrimony is love, while what women seek is some one to provide for them. Therefore, he considers that the answer to the conundrum of how to be happy though married is for both parties to marry only for affection and companionship and for the wife to follow some gainful occupation outside the home and contribute as much money for the support of the family as the husband does and to turn over the care of the children, if any, to outsiders.

I think my correspondent is mistaken in thinking that many women in these days marry for a living. Women did so in former times. When matrimony was about the only respectable avocation open to a female, they naturally embraced the only opportunity that was open to them, but very few of them marry now to get a man to support them, for the very good reason that they can support themselves better than any husband they can get is likely to. Matrimony has ceased to be a graft with women and has become a sacrifice.

Whatever else the modern girl may be, she is no fool. She knows her onions and is perfectly aware that the poor young clerk who is "keeping company" with her is no millionaire in disguise, and that when they are married he will not take her to live in a palace and shower matched pearls and fleets of motorcars on her and doll her up like the Queen of Sheba. On the contrary, having expert knowledge, gained through personal experience, of the size and inelasticity of pay envelopes and just how far a dollar will go, she does not belittle herself with the theory that two can live as cheaply as one and that a man who is earning no more than she is can give her the luxuries she has when she has her whole salary to spend upon herself.

Also, she looks around and sees that the girls who have married are far shabbier and harder worked than those who stuck to their jobs. Sadie, who was a high-priced private secretary and the glass of fashion, is still wearing the wrecks of her trousseau. Mamie, who used to go to Paris twice a year to buy gowns, considers it a treat now if she can get some one to stay with the children so that she can go down town for a couple of hours. Mina, who was a crackjack saleswoman with big commissions, works fourteen hours a day cooking and washing and baby-tending.

When a girl contemplates the lot of her married friends she beholds nothing that leads her to believe that she would improve her material condition by marriage and swapping a good situation for a husband. Nor does she deceive herself on the subject. She knows that it is far more fatiguing to perform on a gas range than it is on a typewriter; that housework is much less interesting than the work you do in a store or office, where you see new people and hear new things all day long. Furthermore, that the wife job has no pay envelope attached to it as has the job outside of the home.

So the girl of to-day may be acquitted of the charge of marrying to get some one to support her. She marries for love. So does the man. There is nothing sordid about the average American marriage. It is based entirely on romance and sentiment and the desire of two young creatures for each other, and yet nowhere else is marriage so often a failure as it is with us. We lead the civilized world in the number of our divorces.

Nobody can explain why men and women who marry for nothing but love should so soon fall out of love with each other. But they do, and so far as one is able to judge, it appears that the men are more quickly disillusioned than the women, and that the affection of husbands is less able to stand the strain that the sacrifices of matrimony entail than that of the wives. There are more unfaithful husbands than there are wives. More wives who are clinging desperately to husbands who are weary of them and trying to shake them off.

Whether this is the fault of the women or the men, who can say? Perhaps wives do not know how to play the game so as to keep their husbands fascinated with them. Perhaps husbands are constitutionally fickle and cannot help but roam. But I do not believe that the solution of the problem of making a happy home is for the wife to work outside of it.

I think, in the first place, that the man who is not willing to work for his wife and children and who resents supporting them is a poor creature who has nothing of real manhood about him and that he could never possibly keep the respect and affection of his wife. And, in the second place, I think that any woman who does her part as wife and mother and makes a comfortable home, has done her share of the work in the mutual partnership and should not be expected to go out and earn the money to buy the material out of which to make the bread-as well as to make it.

The man should bring home the bacon. The woman should cook it to a turn. The man should provide the raw materials for the making of the home. The woman should be the home-maker. That is the fair division of labor, and the making of a home is an undertaking so vast, so complicated, requiring such an expenditure of thought and energy and intelligence that it leaves a woman neither strength nor time for anything else.

To expect a woman to work all day in an office and then come home at night and clean the house and prepare the food for the family and for her to furnish half the money besides to pay for the upkeep of the home is certainly handing her the hot end of the bargain, and as none of us enjoy being cheated or overreached, I cannot see how it would promote domestic peace and harmony for wives to be married to husbands who took all and gave nothing.

There may be a few men who feel that their wives and children are burdens upon them and who begrudge them the money they cost, but to the great majority of men the very fact that their families are dependent upon them endears them to them. It brings out all the tenderness and chivalry in their natures, and nine times out of ten you will find that the clinging wife is more cherished than the go-getter.

But if men are going to demand that their wives shall contribute half of the support of the family, then, in all fairness, they should have half the babies.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

BY SISTER MARY

Most housewives realize the necessity of serving vegetables daily and are on the lookout for appetizing ways to cook them.

Nature has provided certain vegetables for winter use and with a definite reason. As the seasons change and the diet includes hearty meats, coarse, bulky vegetables full of mineral salts are necessary for healthy bodies. Turnips, carrots, and parsnips are winter vegetables which deserve more popularity than we now enjoy, for they are an important source of important constituents especially needed when a diet rich in protein is used.

Very often careless cooking and serving has spoiled a strong-flavored vegetable like turnips for fastidious persons. But if the same care and interest go into the dish of turnips that went into the Brussels sprouts, just as delectable a vegetable for less money will be the result.

Turnips au gratin are delicious and delicate.

TURNIPS AU GRATIN

Three cups diced turnips, 1 lemon, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 cup boiling water, 2 cups milk, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 more tablespoon butter, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 1 small onion, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 1/4 cup buttered crumbs.

Choose small white turnips. Pare and cut in quarters. Let stand in cold water to which 1 tablespoon lemon juice has been added for one hour. Drop into boiling salted water and cook 20 minutes. Drain. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in saucepan and turnips are added over the heat and each piece coated with butter. Add boiling water and simmer until tender. Drain from this water but save the water for the sauce. Put turnips into a well-buttered baking dish and pour over a sauce made of flour stirred into butter to which turnip stock and milk are added. Let the onion cook in the sauce while making it, but remove before pouring over turnips. Season sauce with salt, paprika and about 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Remove from heat and add in egg slightly beaten. Add Vaseline and pour over turnips. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake in a hot oven until crumbs are brown.

To-morrow's Horoscope

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1929

Benefic stars rule to-day, according to astrology, which reads in the horoscope much that is promising for the progress of the country.

The direction of the stars is believed to be most auspicious for the success of the people and seems to promise new enthusiasm among members of American civic organizations.

Under this sway the minds of men and women are supposed to be more responsive to the call of duty, and for this reason some should be well received.

Again interest in civic matters appears to be indicated for the churches which will contribute much to national progress.

Gold should be the "Winnings" of the day are auspicious for conferences with leaders of thought. Colleges should benefit.

The stars again prophesy that young men will show an access of interest in the ministry as a calling and foretell increase in the number of divinity students in the United States.

Astrologers who forecast for the coming winter a great increase in vice and crime warn that the stars may be responsible for many railway accidents.

Mysterious crimes are foretold from the stars of Mars and the stars warn those who influence their fellow men by spoken or by written word that thought is especially contentious at this time.

A fire at sea is indicated by a sinister aspect which may also possibly presage a disastrous railway accident.

Children born on this day probably will be endowed with talents of varied trend.

Legislation will be actors in exciting scenes in Washington and various state capitals as the winter advances, it is foreseen.

Women are to attain high honors in political service in the year 1930, the stars prophesy, and several will be chosen for diplomatic service.

Times Santa Explorers Rescued In Far North

Two Planes Floating on Pontoons Picked Up at Hudson Bay; Sealing Vessel Aids; Steamer Sea Lion Proceeds With Exploring Party to Fort Severn; Aeroplanes To Be Repaired There.

Captain Kleinenschmidt and his party of explorers bound for the North Pole in search of Santa Claus reported missing last evening after the failure of The Victoria Times to receive regular wireless messages from them, have been found.

The first news of their recovery came from the steamer Sea Lion, which reported to a radio station having been picked up floating on Hudson Bay near Fort Severn. This was at noon yesterday.

Several more wireless messages told of receiving short flashes of SOS calls, supposedly from the missing planes.

ALL MEMBERS WELL

A searching party was dispatched, led by the Sea Lion, and the two planes were found with all occupants well and in good health.

"We shall proceed with our expedition just as planned," said Captain Kleinenschmidt, after his rescue. "The kiddies of Vancouver Island shall not be disappointed. I intend to push on and on into the frozen North until Santa Claus is discovered."

Other members of the party expressed their joy at their good fortune.

"For a while I thought The Victoria

Times and the kiddies were going to be disappointed," said "Red" Garland aboard the steamer. "Now I'm happy we can get ahead."

EXPRESS CONFIDENCE

In a wireless message to The Times the Captain expressed his confidence of success in his undertaking.

"After bucking heavy snow and rain storms, the wind died down. We ran into fog and sleet formed on our wings and we were losing altitude. Then sleet formed on the propellers, when it began to blow that the propeller, the force would throw it off one blade—the vibrations became so bad that the engine was endangered until the sleet from the other blade was thrown off also. The leading edge of the wings and the wings themselves became so coated with ice they lost their lifting capacity and we were forced to land on the ice.

"We sent out SOS calls, which brought us the sealing schooner Sea Lion, a Hudson Bay Company boat especially built for combatting the icy waters of Hudson Bay. We were mighty glad to get into a warm cabin and get a warm meal—the second one since leaving Ottawa."

"Though delayed somewhat by this mishap we will renew our energies towards reaching our destination. We do not know how long it will take us to get there."

"The kiddies of Providence are on our side. We are continuing to have the most difficult part of our aeronautical flight to Victoria Land, a distance of 950 miles and across an uninhabited inospitable country without any landmarks, dotted with innumerable nameless lakes. It will be instrument flying all the way until we reach Coronation Gulf."

GOVERNMENT PLANS TO ALTER LAW ON MECHANICS' LIENS

A. V. Pineo, legal counsel to the Provincial Government, and H. G. Lawson, of the legal firm of Lawson and Davis, were the speakers yesterday at a luncheon meeting of the Victoria Bar Association, held at the David Spender Limited restaurant.

A. D. Macfarlane, president, was in the chair. Other guests at the luncheon included Magistrate George H. C. Goss, manager of companies, and Col. Alex. Pepler, departmental solicitor to the Attorney-General, who was introduced to Harold Beckwith.

Mr. Pineo stated the Government now has in preparation changes to the Mechanics' Lien Act and a number of other statutes, and invited the Bar Association to submit suggestions.

H. G. Lawson told of the proceedings of the Canadian Bar Association convention at Quebec and described the work of the committee on uniformity of laws for all provinces.

PRECISION IN LEVELING

In a line of precise levels run across the continent from means of level on the Atlantic to mean sea level on the Pacific, the results of the Geodetic Survey of Canada obtained an apparent difference of elevation of only about six inches. On the assumption that the mean sea levels of the two oceans are about the same, this indicates that only the above slight error was made in running a line of levels 3,647 miles in length.

Dear Sir:

I am nine years old I go to St. Louis College and I am in grade four. I know there is a Santa Clause because there are no toys nor a Christmas tree in the house on Christmas Eve. Another reason is that I leave a cup of cocoa and some bread for him and they are always gone when I wake up in the morning. He gave me a letter once with my name on it and he asked me what I wanted for Christmas and I got it.

Dear Editor:

Why I believe in Santa Claus is because one Christmas Eve my sister and I could not go to sleep because we were so excited, so mother had to put our stockings in the front room, by the fire side. When we awoke in the morning we found all the nice things all over the floor. There was a note on each of our stockings from Santa saying he could hear we were a wake so he could not wait till we went to sleep as he had so many other stockings to fill. I know it was Santa Claus because mother was laying down with us and daddy was in bed so of course it was Santa.

Anti-vivisection Society Takes Exception to Physiology
Reader

A strong protest against the use in schools of the text book on physiology and hygiene has been forwarded by the Canadian Anti-vivisection Society to the Ministers of Education and school boards in British Columbia, Alberta and New Brunswick.

Exception to the book is taken on the grounds that it teaches unproved theories.

Following is a copy of the letter sent to the various educational officials:

"We beg to emphatically protest against the use of the text book 'Physiology and Hygiene' in our schools.

"Our objections are, inter alia:

"That the book is purely theoretical inasmuch as fact, for example, that bacteria are the cause of disease.

"This has never been proved and is denied by many leading scientists.

"That on the strength of this unproved theory, serum and vaccines are advocated as valuable adjuncts in the treatment of disease—a teaching which is directly contrary to fact.

"That tables and statistics, unsupported by evidence, are published with the object of upholding these unproved theories.

"That among various unreliable statements the following appear:

"None of the physicians who oppose vaccination have any prominence in their profession," a calumny as ridiculous as it is untrue.

"That while there is much useful information in this text book, the bulk of it is so pernicious and so open to controversy that it should not be placed in the hands of students.

"That it contains references to objectionable experiments on animals and that these experiments are degrading to children and students.

"That the public should not have to pay for the issue of unreliable and dangerous literature, which appears in
